

Canto Beneventano per la Messa di S. Stefano
(Trascrizione di Matthew Peattie per la Schola Cantorum OrbiSophia)

Benevento, Biblioteca Capitolare, MS 35. f. 202v/r

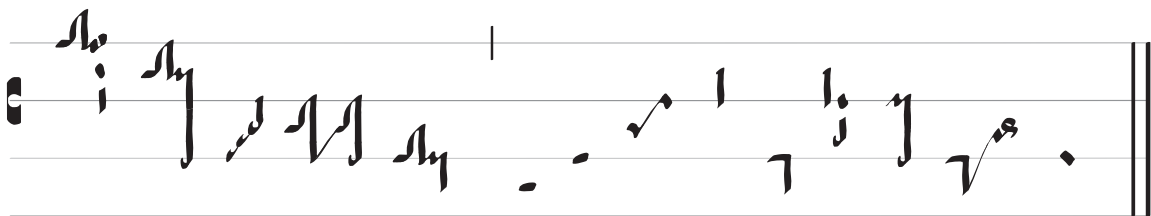

hoc ad pec- ca- tum, qui- a ne- sci- unt

quid fa- ci- unt; qui- a e- go pa- ti-or in car- ne, non i- sti pe- re- ant in men- te.

202r

This edition is available free of charge to any singer, choir, student or scholar with an interest in Beneventan Chant for use in teaching, research, or performance. We hope that you will share any performances with us! The editions may not be reproduced for commercial purposes © Associazione OrbiSophia, 2024.

Ingressa: Stephanus autem

Stephen, however, when he was stoned by the Jews, prayed to the Lord, saying: "Lord, I suffer. I am stoned. They rage against me. They torment me. But do not count this as a sin against them, for they know not what they do; I suffer in the flesh, that they may not perish in spirit.

